

Women & Infants'

BROWN
Alpert Medical School

DIVISION DIRECTOR, DIVISION OF ACADEMIC SPECIALISTS IN GENERAL OBSTETRICS & GYNECOLOGY

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University and Women & Infants Hospital is recruiting for the Division Director of the Division of Academic Specialists in General Obstetrics and Gynecology. The Generalist Division has twenty faculty members. Candidates must be board certified, must qualify for a full-time faculty position as Professor or Associate Professor of Obstetrics & Gynecology at Brown, be eligible for medical licensure in Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Connecticut, have a national reputation for scholarly productivity, and demonstrated experience in managing a team and supervising physicians and non-medical staff. Job responsibilities include patient care, teaching, research, and administration. The successful candidate will be expected to express a vision for the future of the division that includes innovation in research, clinical care, education and training. The department offers a competitive compensation package in addition to a stimulating professional environment that supports personal and professional growth. Applicants should apply via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/98458>. Review of applicants will begin immediately and will continue until a successful candidate has been identified or the search is closed. Women & Infants/CNE is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an AA/EEO employer, Women & Infants/CNE considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of gender, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.